

HOLLYWOOD STAR HERE WEDNESDAY

Stress importance of blood plasma in war

Mobile unit to be at Heights February 1

Brig. General David N. W. Grant, air surgeon, U. S. army air forces, in commenting recently on the remarkably low death rate among the wounded in this war, attributes it to four causes.

First on the list he puts, Blood Plasma, given at advanced dressing stations. Second he puts on the list, quick removal of the wounded to hospitals for further treatment; third, the use of sulphur drugs in the treatment of wounds, and fourth, surgical skill.

"Most of you cannot do much about the last three," stated General Grant, "but every one of you can help with the first, Blood Plasma."

Ernie Pyle, widely known war correspondent, sick in a field hospital in Sicily, wrote for the Washington Post, "And while we are on the subject of plasma, the doctors asked me at least a dozen times to write about plasma."

"Write lots about it, go clear overboard about it, say that blood plasma is the outstanding medical discovery of this war," they said.

"So I beg of you folks at home to give and keep giving your blood. We've got plenty on hand now, but if we ever run into mass casualties such as they have had on the Russian front, we will need untold amounts of it."

It is statements such as these that bring home to the people of every village and hamlet in America, the realization of the important part they can play in winning the war and the saving of life.

Just a few minutes of time and a contribution has been made that may save the life of some lad on the battlefield.

The campaign here for blood donors is now in its second week, and a good number of citizens have already signed up.

All organizations in town are co-operating in the project, and those who have not signed up as a blood donor, may do so this week through their own organization or church.

The list of chairmen for the various organizations appeared in last week's issue of the paper.

All chairmen are asked to have their lists of registrants turned in to the Public Service store by Saturday of this week, and each donor will receive a card soon after, giving time of appointment.

The blood donor service will be in Arlington Heights February 1, and in next week's issue of the paper will appear the rules to follow on the day of the donor service.

Funeral service for mother of J. Henricks to be Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Henricks, mother of John and Herbert Henricks, Arlington Heights, will be held from Karstens funeral home to St. Peter Lutheran church Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

She passed away Tuesday evening at her home at Greenwood, McHenry county. She leaves her husband, three sons, two daughters, 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Henricks left Arlington Heights ten years ago. Obituary will appear in next week's paper.

"Jim" is willing but the weather does not cooperate

James McElhose, superintendent of the park district is a great friend of the young people, but his hands are tied when the weather man does not cooperate. He has taken a lot of effort to give the young people a good skating pond, but when the weather does not stay below 20 degrees, the skaters are out of luck—to Jim's sorrow.

When the evening paper predicts above freezing the next day, McElhose knows that it would be wasted effort to spray the pond.

Gaare Motor Sales can again promise prompt service

Henry Gaare is all smiles these days. John Hildman, an auto mechanic with 16 years experience has associated himself with Gaare Motor Sales which is again able to handle all auto repair and maintenance jobs that come their way.

"It will be prompt service to car owners from now on," says Mr. Gaare.

Printing is now rationed

With the amended regulations of the War Production Board that apply to the use of paper by commercial job printers, H. C. Paddock Sons are faced with the same position as many merchants who are compelled to limit their sales.

Printing paper has been rationed. This firm is limited in the number of pounds of the finished product that it can turn out in any one quarter. We can not accept printing orders indiscriminately.

We intend to protect our old customers, but in order to do so, we ask that they anticipate their printing needs as long in advance as possible. There is a lot of new business knocking on the doors of H. C. Paddock Sons. Naturally we want to accept as much of the new business as we can without violating the rationing restrictions that have been placed on us, and all other commercial printers, but we desire to take care of our old business first.

At the present time, the printing department is two weeks behind schedule and a sudden influx of job printing will not help matters, except it means that the customers are being protected on their future needs.

The campaign here for blood donors is now in its second week, and a good number of citizens have already signed up.

All organizations in town are co-operating in the project, and those who have not signed up as a blood donor, may do so this week through their own organization or church.

Full military honors accorded Paul Pingel

Members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, former classmates now in the navy and a firing squad of eight from Glenview Naval Training station, provided the military honors that were accorded Paul E. Pingel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pingel, Arlington Heights, Sunday afternoon when their son was laid to rest.

The pall bearers were all members of Merle Guild Post of the American Legion, viz: James May, Geo. Jorgensen, D. R. Rippey, William Garms, Harvey Daggett and Les Griffith. Standing before the casket at the church services were the honor guard of three sailors and a soldier, all long time friends of the deceased. Two of them, William Millay and Walter Gustafson, were classmates of Paul in the Arlington Heights high school. Wm. Weber, also in navy service and Wilbur Pingel, a cousin, in the army completed the funeral cortege to St. John's church and to the cemetery.

Meeting the funeral party at the cemetery were the firing squad from Glenview Naval Training station, comprising an officer, bugler and six sailors.

The funeral was largely attended, the sympathy of the people of Arlington going out to the parents of the fourth local boy to lose his life in the present war.

The remains arrived in Arlington Heights Thursday evening, accompanied by Donald Spangler who brought the body from the U. S. submarine base, New London, Conn. He remained until after the funeral and was able to comfort the bereaved parents by his stories of Paul's service in the navy and his personal friendship for him.

Letters received from the submarine base gave full details of the illness that caused Paul's death, and the high regard in which he was held by his shipmates.

A letter from Captain E. F. Cutts tells of Paul's illness, as follows: "Your son was admitted to this Dispensary, Submarine Base, from the submarine, U.S.S. 0-4 on 28 December, 1943. He apparently had contracted scarlet fever during the course of a mild epidemic of this disease at this station. His condition during the course of this disease at all times was satisfactory and he was considered convalescent and at the end of the quarantine period would have been returned to his ship for duty."

"Just after three o'clock in the afternoon of 10 January he apparently was suffering from an acute heart condition. The medical officer attending his case was on hand and everything possible was done in this case. In spite of our best efforts death occurred at about 3:30. It was due to Acute Endocarditis with other heart complications instant to his scarlet fever."

C. Donald Brown, Lieutenant, U. S. Navy gave an insight into what Paul had accomplished in the navy and concluded with a consolatory message to the parents of Paul that could equally apply to other parents who have yet to sustain a similar loss in the present war. The lieutenant's letter reads:

"My dear Mr. and Mrs. Pingel: "On behalf of all the officers and men of the U.S.S. 0-4 I want you to know the share we feel we have in your recent and great loss. "Your son became one of our crew on November 1, 1943. His record previous to joining us showed him outstanding. In three schools attended, he averaged well in the upper quarter of his class. Soon after reporting aboard he was under consideration for, and would have been qualified for, advancement in rating long before the average time. "The loss of a man of your son's calibre is not only a loss to you, but also to the men on his ship and the U. S. naval service. We hope that having his shipmate, Donald Spangler with you at this time will be of some comfort. "Your son undoubtedly accomplished the mission for which he was sent to this world. Passing away as he did, is a reminder that, regardless of the time and conditions, life's number comes up on schedule. Men who face battle now, and those of us who expect to face it soon, like to feel that way about it. "There are advantages to everything. If I were slated to leave this earth as a young man, I would want to go before I had assumed the responsibilities of a family. Your boy had the exciting career part of his life, and I for one, do not begrudge his being in a far far better place than a war-torn world. It would be like wishing his return from a sunny vacation to share with you, an unpleasant winter day. "Sincerely yours, "C. Donald Brown, "Lieutenant, U. S. Navy."

Paul Pingel was born Dec. 31, 1924 and has lived in this vicinity all of his life. He was a senior in the Arlington Heights high school, leaving school immediately after he had become 18 years of age and qualified for enlistment in the navy. He was always interested in Diesel engines and volunteered for submarine service. Paul leaves his parents, three sisters, Perrine, Pernet, Pamela; two brothers, Preston and Phillip. One sister, Pauline, died in infancy.

Lay plans to widen north Dunton Avenue

The widening of North Dunton from Eastman st. to Euclid ave., was the main topic considered at Monday night's meeting of Arlington Heights village board. Consoer, Townsend & Quinlan, as village engineers are preparing the profiles, but work can not be started unless priorities are received for the macadam and funds in the motor fuel fund are found to be sufficient.

The improvement is so badly needed that the village may proceed with the work block, by block, as the funds are received from the state.

Three churches are located within the three blocks which creates a traffic problem of itself. This is also the main north and south street from the business district.

The board passed an ordinance regulating grass fires. It prohibits any person or corporation from starting or causing to start, any fire, commonly called a grass or prairie fire without first obtaining a permit therefor from the village.

The applicant will be responsible for all costs and damages that may result, including the cost to the village of the fire department if it is called to the fire. The ordinance appears in this issue.

"No fires this week," said Chief Jahn; he was wrong

The Herald reporter found Fire Chief Jahn sitting at his desk Wednesday morning, very much contented because the village board had passed an ordinance banning fires—the grass kind. "We are going to take it easy from now on," said the chief. He was wrong. Five minutes later the siren called the boys to a roof fire, adjoining the municipal building, on the Carl Kerber home. It was easily extinguished.

Announce purchase of Pros. Hts church site

Building to be located corner of Willow, Elmhurst

George H. Sheppard, president of the Prospect Heights Community church council, early this week announced the fact that the church trustees had purchased the north-west corner of Elmhurst and Willow roads from the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustees. Smith & Dawson acted as agent.

According to Mr. Sheppard, this location was chosen after careful consideration as the site on which the Community church will erect its religious edifice immediately following the war. Over three score adjacent property owners signified their approval of the location.

"Our board of trustees," said Mr. Sheppard, "has already decided upon the temporary church site and earnest money for the purchase of property has been posted. Our attorneys, Maloney and Wooster, are handling the matter thru to conclusion and we should be able to announce the purchase within another week. The mortgage for the property will be held by the National Board of Missions, who are backing our project financially."

January 14, 1944 "My dear Mr. and Mrs. Pingel: "On behalf of all the officers and men of the U.S.S. 0-4 I want you to know the share we feel we have in your recent and great loss. "Your son became one of our crew on November 1, 1943. His record previous to joining us showed him outstanding. In three schools attended, he averaged well in the upper quarter of his class. ## Lions club indoor carnival February 4 and 5

Two evenings of fun and frolic, to be known as "The Gay Nineties," will be sponsored by the Arlington Heights Lions club and offered to the community at the field house, Recreation Park, on the evenings of February 4 and 5. Games, entertainment reminiscent of the gay nineties, and other amusements will hold the interest of both young and old, and make the evenings long to be remembered.

"The Gay Nineties" is being offered for a two-fold purpose—to provide the community with two nights of exhilarating fun, and, of greater importance, to augment the fund being used, exclusively, for the furtherance of community service.

Admittance will be free. Door prizes will be offered. So, neighbors, remember the dates—Friday and Saturday evenings, February 4 and 5. More details will be published in next week's edition of the Herald.

"Dog good enough for army service is too good for a pet"

The Doberman Pinscher, pet of Mrs. John Hildeman, Schoenbeck road, Arlington Heights, was one of four dogs which left Chicago Sunday for training with the marines at New River, North Carolina. "If my dog is good enough for army service, it is too good for a pet," was the decision that Mrs. Hildeman made on a Wednesday, when she heard over the radio that the marine corps needed dogs. A phone message that day brought a personal reply Friday when her dog was inspected and accepted, with orders to have the dog at the Polk street station, Chicago, on Sunday.

"The promptness in which the Marines answered my inquiry shows how badly the dogs are needed," says Mrs. Hildeman. "Other owners of qualified dogs should call Sgt. Blacky, Public Relations, U. S. Marine Corps, Harrison 4700, local 196 from where full information will be forthcoming."

The dogs will go into combat duty. Stories being received in this country tell of the great aid the animals are giving the combat troops.

Congregation vote unanimously to return pastor's call

The congregation of Palatine Lutheran church voted unanimously Sunday afternoon that there was greater need for their pastor, Rev. Wilbur Koester, to remain in Palatine than to accept a call to Hoffman, Illinois. Rev. Koester addressed the congregation, stating that he was ready to remain or to go to the new charge, whichever the congregation decided was his duty. The vote was 78 to 2 that he remain in his present charge. Immediately afterwards the vote was made unanimously.

Electric appliance swap campaign gains headway

The "swap" campaign in which War Stamps are given in trade for idle or broken electric appliances is meeting a favorable response in Arlington Heights, according to the Dreyer Electric Company who sponsors the plan here. The campaign is part of a movement resulting from the recent nation-wide appeal of the War Labor Board that homes be searched thoroughly for work-saving devices now out of use, to be repaired and made available to war workers and others now doing without them because of wartime manufacturing restrictions.

Since the opening of the drive in Arlington Heights many toasters, lamps and flat irons, as well as larger appliances which had been gathering dust in attics, cupboards and basements have been unearthed and delivered to the stores for resale.

"Especially active is a large number of boys and girls who have gained their parents' permission to search out idle appliances as a means of filling their War Stamp books," it was said. "Grownups have expressed pleasure at participating in the sharing aspect of the swap campaign, hoping a neighbor is helped by their old appliance. The campaign will continue for several weeks."

Former editor gives shop the once over

Capt. Stuart R. Paddock, Jr., former editor of Arlington Heights Herald, is in town this week, saying howdy to acquaintances he meets on the street and giving the newspaper shop the once-over. The boys in the back shop say that minus the captain's bars, he is the same old Stuey. His wife, Mrs. Paddock, came from Birmingham, Alabama, to spend the week with her husband.

C. H. Mills purchase home in Stonegate

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills have purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foreman at 129 Drury Lane. The Foremans will move soon after the first of February into the former Scolaro home, at 28 South Dunton ave. The sale was consummated by Harold Willson and Associate.

Home on furlough

Commencing this week the Herald will endeavor to publish the names of Arlington Heights boys who are home on furlough, securing the names from the rationing board. Those who do not visit the board are asked to call the Herald. Some of the boys may have returned to their camps, but oftentimes the publication will enable friends to meet and exchange experiences since the last time they met.

The Herald will also be glad to have any of the boys stop at the publication office for a short interview. When you are in camp you enjoy reading "With Uncle Sam" which will become more interesting for others if the paper can publish a short story about you. It will be as eagerly read by the boys on the fighting fronts as a letter from you direct.

Help make "With Uncle Sam" more interesting. Send in your letter or call, yourself.

Commuter's wife finds slippers not good apparel

It could happen to you, if you are one of those women who get your husband's breakfast in disarray. The wife of a prominent local commuter told the reporter this story on his promise not to mention names. She suggested that it be published so other women could avoid the embarrassment that came her way when she had to walk in bedroom slippers wearing a bathrobe on one of the main streets of town from her car to a stranger's house to phone a garage.

Friend husband only had four minutes to make his train. The wife offered to drive the car. On her way home the motor sputtered and died—no gas. This woman now arises in time to don her slacks before getting her hubby's breakfast.

"These dollars—every one not absolutely essential for living—should be put to work to help win this war. We, the people, have a clear choice before us. We can pay for the winning of this war in the least painful way or the most painful way. We can't escape making a choice. We can do it the hard way by going in for an orgy of spending, bidding up prices in an ever-rising spiral, forcing the Government to borrow from the banking system. That is a process whereby more and more money—dangerous dollars—would be created. It means not using fully or effectively in the war effort the already vastly expanded existing money supply. That is the highroad to reckless inflation."

"If we travel that road, we will shatter the hopes and dreams of millions of the men and women in our fighting forces. They are making their plans even now for their return to civilian life. The majority are saving their money thinking of what it will buy, a house, a farm, furniture, and other things of necessity foregone while the war is on. If these high hopes are wrecked because prices have been allowed to rise until the carefully-saved dollars will buy only a half or a third, or less of what they would purchase when our fighting forces went away—if we at home allow this to happen, then let us beware."

Legion citation to be awarded Herald for service men's section

Honor will be paid Paddock Publications on next Tuesday night, January 25, when Messrs. Stuart R. and Charles E. Paddock will be presented with the American Legion Press Citation, by Merle Guild Post No. 208, at the Legion club house.

This citation will be given in recognition of the "With Uncle Sam" section of The Arlington Heights Herald, which has appeared for the past two years.

Chairman Rudy Rizzo is in charge of the ceremonies. He has extended invitations to the village officials, and to the heads of the various Civic and Community groups.

Sale of property for 1942 taxes to start soon

County Treasurer Victor L. Schlaeger, warns 1942 delinquent real estate owners that his office is sending out notices of delinquency to country town and city taxpayers who are behind in the payment of their taxes; that unless they pay their back 1942 taxes within 10 days of their notice, their property will go to sale.

Interest and penalties will be added to all unpaid bills. Schlaeger says if any taxpayer hasn't received his 1942 bill or has misplaced it, and thereby hasn't paid the bill, his office will, on request, render a new bill.

The treasurer also asks all taxpayers who have moved or sold their property to notify him of the change of address. Last year many property owners did not receive their bills because of change of address and a penalty was added. Purchasers of property should notify the treasurer, he says, of this fact so that they can have the address of the bill corrected.

Funeral today for former business man

Funeral services will be held this Thursday at Karstens Funeral home for William Niemeyer, former Arlington Heights business man. He died Monday morning. For a number of years he operated an ice cream parlor on Campbell st., which he later sold to Gustav Heidorn.

Mr. and Mrs. Niemeyer operated the Rob Roy Country club last year and expected to do the same coming season. His friends and acquaintances will miss the cheery greeting that William always had on tap for the people with whom he came in contact.

MANY THANKS The quick assistance of neighbors, friends and relatives at the time of our fire saved us from greater loss. We appreciate their aid at the time of the fire and assistance given us since then.

Camellias for bride, lemon for groom

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Behrens, Scarsdale, Arlington Heights, have been married more years than their daughter will admit to the editor, but Monday was their anniversary and an admiring friend, a florist, not over fifty miles from Arlington, brought down the very choicest of his greenhouses. There were three gardenias, three camellias (seldom raised in the Chicago area, retail price $2.00 each) and a huge lemon (enough for six lemon cream pies, he told Judge Behrens).

Mrs. Behrens was very pleased to get the flowers and Carl was very pleased to get the lemon with all it implies—if it means pies, he said. The judge is not yet certain if the gift of the lemon is a compliment or a rib. His wife replies, "take it or leave it."

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE SETTING OF GRASS FIRES

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1. That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to start or cause to be started, or knowingly permit to be started or set on any premises within the Village of Arlington Heights, any fire, commonly called a grass fire, or prairie fire, for the purpose of burning of grass, weeds, leaves or other combustible material, without first obtaining a permit therefor from the Village of Arlington Heights.

SECTION 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to set such a fire shall make written application for such permit, addressed to the President and Board of Trustees of this Village, which application for permit shall state the location where such fire is to be set, the approximate size of the area to be burned over, and the number of persons who will be in charge of said proposed fire to guard against its getting out of control. In such application the applicant for such permit shall also specifically agree that he will be responsible for and assume to pay all costs and damages that may result either to the village or any private property owner as the result of the setting of such fire, including the costs to the Village of the operation of its fire department, in case such fire department shall be called to extinguish such fire or any fire resulting therefrom.

SECTION 3. Upon the filing with the Village Clerk of such application, complying with the requirements hereinbefore prescribed, said Village Clerk shall, without any costs to the applicant, issue a permit pursuant to such application, which permit however shall be good only for the day on which it is issued, and provided, that no permit shall be issued on such application on any day when the weather is windy or stormy, making the setting of such a fire hazardous.

SECTION 4. Nothing in this ordinance shall interfere with the burning of leaves or other rubbish by the owner or occupant of the premises on which same are burned if such leaves or rubbish have been raked and piled and the fire is being attended in compliance with the provisions of any other ordinances of this Village.

SECTION 5. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not less than $50.00 nor more than $500.00.

SECTION 6. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, and shall be known as Ordinance No. 651.

PASSED this 17th day of January, A. D. 1944.

HELENE BUSSE, Village Clerk.

APPROVED this 17th day of January, A. D. 1944.

ALBERT W. GOEDKE, President.

John Ashton, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ashton, Carlyle Place, during his five days leave, has returned to Camp, Washington, D. C.

Girl scouts observe Nat'l. thrift week

Girl Scouts of Arlington Heights are cooperating this week, Jan. 17 to 23 inclusive, in National Thrift week by "saving" time for community service. Girls of each troop are giving extra time this week towards the war effort.

Money must be saved for war stamps today, and the scouts find many ways of saving, walking to and from school, foregoing that soda, or earning small amounts by caring for children, running errands, or doing special jobs for mother and dad or for neighbors. When the heart is in it, many ways can be found.

Birthday party

Girl Scout Troop No. 4 is celebrating their first official birthday.

This troop birthday is a significance in its instructions in the life of every Girl Scout.

Troop No. 4 is one year older and one year wiser in Girl Scout work. It also means that every girl's mother of the Troop committee must be registered at National Headquarters, registrations are now being formed for another year.

All Troop members will receive new membership cards, and ten girls will receive membership stars, in recognition of a year's active registered membership in Girl Scout work.

This birthday party is being planned by the girls as part of their hostess badge. There are four committees, invitations, refreshments, decorations, and courtship.

Guests will be troop committee mothers, Mrs. E. H. Niemeyer, chairman of Troop No. 4, members Mrs. E. Goldthwaite, Mrs. E. D. Bates, Mrs. Clarence T. Weir, and Mrs. Sieburg. There will be a troop birthday ceremony to receive their cards and stars. The refreshments will include a troop birthday cake. The party will be at the home of Mrs. Alva Meyers, 617 Burton place at 3:45 p. m. Monday, Jan. 24.

CUBS

This Friday, Jan. 21, is Pack meeting night. Be sure and come early so as to get set for the entertainment. The Bell Telephone Co. is furnishing the show which will be installed on the stage. The meeting will be held at the North school auditorium at 7:30 sharp.

Den 7 is really having a busy time these days. Mr. Havranek, the Den Dad, is wearing out his pencil recording the many achievements that his boys are passing. Eight boys out of twelve have now earned at least one award, so the other four will have to get going.

The youngest member of Den 7, Tom Meyer, has passed his Wolf award and is now working on his gold arrow.

Bruce Collard has passed his Wolf Silver Arrow and Donald Smith his Wolf Gold Arrow. These three boys will receive their awards at the Pack meeting tomorrow night. On Dec. 30 the Den meeting was held at the home of Warren Latoff. It turned out to be a birthday party for Warren, so congratulations are in order.

Your Den Dad has tickets for the Annual Father and Son banquet, so if he hasn't given them to you, ask him for two right away. Be sure and bring your parents and friends to the Pack meeting tomorrow night. The show is of interest to all.

Douglas doings

The search for a "Queen of Sweethearts" was well under way this week at Douglas Aircraft's Chicago plant. With the first of several elimination rounds already held, nominees and their enthusiastic supporters are awaiting Sunday night, Feb. 13—the night before St. Valentine's day—when the plant's Queen will be selected from seven finalists at a dance at the Edgewater Beach Hotel.

The lucky girl will receive her crown at midnight from Lt. Col. Randy Holladay, resident representative of the Army Air Forces at Douglas.

Tickets are priced at $1.10 each and it is expected that more than 2,000 Douglas employees will be on hand to see the "Queen of Sweethearts" receive her reward and to dance to the music of the Douglas Airmen, the Chicago plant's own orchestra composed of former professional musicians.

A gift to the Army Air Forces in the form of a giant "Sky-master" plane was the goal of employees of Douglas Aircraft's Chicago plant, as the Fourth War Loan campaign got under way this week.

Plans have been completed for an intensive, plant-wide drive to collect $500,000 above the plant's normal purchases of bonds to pay for the plane, which, if bought, will bear a name selected by the Employee Management committee.

Special entertainment for all employees during lunch periods is a part of the program designed to rally Douglas workers to an over-the-top record.

Posters showing a giant C-54 in flight, labeled "Bought and paid for by employees of Douglas Chicago," posted throughout the plant, served to remind all employees of the goal which had been set.

Members of the Douglas Flying Club learned last week that they are the proud possessors of a new plane—a Luscombe, 65 h. p., which brings the total number of ships owned by the club to four: two Piper Cubs, training and solo; Taylorcraft, solo and cross country; and the Luscombe, cross country and advanced.

Heirs of the ages

of Sieburg Drug Co.

Vitamins are products of the ages, but their discovery belongs to recent years. Some pharmaceutical manufacturers maintain laboratories and staffs of trained scientists to perfect the isolation and production of vitamins in convenient and readily soluble forms.

Doctors know how valuable these aids are to the health of adults, of children, even of babies, in making up for the deficiencies that are the lot of so large a percentage of human beings.

Your doctor will advise, and a trusted druggist will supply, vitamins under the label of a pharmaceutical manufacturer with a reputation of producing fine quality products for many years.

Douglas Aircraft's Chicago plant, is in charge of plans for the formation of the first American Legion Post in the United States composed entirely of women with an honorable discharge from World War I. A former member of the Army Nurses' Corps, Miss Sawyer served in New Caledonia and the New Hebrides before receiving a medical discharge last fall. Shortly after joining Douglas, she won the distinction of being the first woman of World War II from the State of Illinois to be admitted to the American Legion.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. McCoy, 105 S. Mitchell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine to Lt. George L. Rothel of the Army Air Corps. Lt. Rothel, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Rothel of Kenilworth, is now stationed at Lubbock, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell visited his sister, Mrs. P. L. Neville and his uncle, Calvin Mitchell in Arlington Heights Saturday. Mr. Mitchell is a successful farmer, stockman and dairy man living near Effingham, Ill.

Monday Bridge club were entertained by Mrs. Park Allen Monday evening. Program, social games and refreshments were enjoyed. Honors were received by Madames A. Bray, E. Ackman and A. Neville.

Gems of thought

EXPERIENCE
However learned or eloquent, man knows nothing truly that he has not learned from experience.
—Wieland.

In all instances where our experience of the past has been extensive and uniform, our judgment as to the future amounts to moral certainty.
—James Beattie.

Experience is victor, never the vanquished; and out of defeat comes the secret of victory. That tomorrow starts from today and is one day beyond it, robs the future with hope's rainbow hues.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

To most men experience is like the stern lights of a ship, which illumine only the track it has passed.
—Coleridge.

No man was ever so completely skilled in the conduct of life, as not to receive new information from age and experience.
—Terence.

Nor deem the irrevocable Past, As wholly wasted, wholly vain. If, rising on its wrecks, at last To something nobler we attain.
—Longfellow.

Make New Plywood
A new type of plywood in the United Kingdom is made by placing a layer of low-grade wood between two sheets of specially treated cardboard.

Red Cross has workers on war battlefronts

As the global conflict grows in intensity, and the crucial stage of the war is at hand, the American Red Cross is "stepping" up its activities to keep pace with the growing needs of the Armed Forces.

The American Red Cross now has men and women workers with troops in fifty-three strategic continental and insular areas. In Europe, Africa, and the fronts of the Far East, Red Cross workers either went into the theatres with invasion forces or else followed within a short time.

The American Red Cross is now operating 35 blood donor centers and 63 mobile units for the collection of the precious fluid. The Army and Navy have asked for 11,000,000 pints of blood to be processed into the miracle medicine—blood plasma. Already, 6,000,000 pints have been collected and the centers are going ahead with their task at the rate of 100,000 pints weekly.

During the past year, 6,475,000 emergency cases were handled by Home Service, Camp and Hospital workers and the 3,756 chapters in the country for soldiers, ex-servicemen and their families. These emergency cases included every conceivable task—from buying pigs for a boy's Christmas present, to delivering tragic messages of death. Daily thousands of cases concerning allotments which have been delayed, emergency loans, or other problems are handled.

led throughout the nation. Every chapter is obligated by the Congressional charter to conduct Home Service. In 2,153 of the smaller chapters, this work is done entirely by volunteers.

The Production Corps of the American Red Cross has made 925,000,000 surgical dressings for the Army and Navy during the past year and 12,000,000 knitted and sewn garments, and has provided departing troops with 2,500,000 kit bags filled with comfort articles. The Production Corps is the largest of the volunteer services. It is estimated that more than 4,000,000 volunteers are now aiding in the gigantic tasks of the American Red Cross. These workers in 1943 contributed 256,491,827 hours of labor.

The organization is now operating 375 clubs and recreation centers in foreign theatres of operation and 85 clubmobiles, which visit the smaller outlying camps on these foreign battlefronts. The American Red Cross has furnished 2,300 sunrooms in military hospitals, and 245 recreation buildings.

Pack food
Four centers are now being operated—in Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and St. Louis—packing food parcels to be shipped to United Nations prisoners of war. The total packages packed and shipped number 5,390,000. The food parcels, designed to offset the vitamin deficiency of prison diet, are shipped to the prisoners through the International Red Cross committee at Geneva, Switzerland. Centers are manned entirely by volunteer groups and the parcels are packed on assembly lines. More than 5,000 women are enrolled as packers at the four centers.

A cargo valued at $1,500,000 was shipped to prisoners of war held in the Far East on the recent trip of the Gripsholm.

Pointing with pride at the past accomplishments both on the home front and abroad, Chairman Davis said activities of the first two years of the Red Cross services in war time would be dwarfed by the staggering tasks ahead of the organization.

"The Red Cross spirit springs from human desire to alleviate suffering and pain in war and times of great disaster," Chairman Davis said. "In this war, we have carried that spirit to every part of the globe where American men and women are serving this nation. Bringing that same spirit back from the battle fronts, the Red Cross has inaugurated a new arm of protection—aid to the disabled servicemen in the interim following his discharge from service and until he begins to receive government benefits."

FILE SUIT

Suit has been filed in Circuit court by Albert Dushkes, against the Roselle Properties, Inc., and others, for a receiver and accounting. He alleges that he owns a judgment against the concern for $2,307 which he has not been able to collect. He states that there is a $24,650 mortgage on the place which comprises 208 acres formerly used as a golf course and clubhouse, but which has not been operated for the past two years. It has been allowed to run down. It is alleged that the president, S. H. Ward, owns most of the stock which has not been fully paid for. It is also alleged that the corporation be dissolved.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Rose Minnich has sued Reuben Minnich of Des Plaines, for divorce in Superior court. They were married in Roselle Oct. 24, 1931. They have two children, aged 10 and 4, who are with their mother. He is employed by the Benjamin Electric Co. in Des Plaines.

Must take care in sending V-mail

If you don't want your V-mail letter to go to the soldier you're writing to overseas, skip this dry little essay and turn to the sports pages.
Reminding the folks on the home front that a lot of V-mail winds up undelivered in the dead letter office, Major General H. S. Aund, Commanding General, Sixth Service Command, Army Service Forces, today asked the public's co-operation in the tremendous job of getting your V-mail letter to your soldier overseas.
Major Kenneth H. Donnelly, postal officer of the Sixth Service Command, at General Aund's suggestion, offers the following hints to get your V-mail message to all the fronts where American soldiers consider mail call the most important sound a bugle can blow.

The soldier's address, as well as the writer's return address, on the message side of the V-mail letter, should be printed completely, correctly, and plainly. Besides the plainly printed name of the soldier, the address must contain his rank or rating, the unit to which he is assigned, the APO number and should be sent in care of the proper postmaster.

Don't try to enclose anything inside a V-mail letter and don't paste anything on the message side of the sheet.
The writing must be fairly large, clear and well-spaced and ink should be used when a typewriter isn't available. Remember that writing done with pencil, light ink, or a worn typewriter ribbon does not photograph well. Writing which strays beyond the border of the V-mail forms will not be visible after the filming and ink spots, grease, lip-stick or any other stains show up only as black blotches.

Future draftees offered rifle training here

The Arlington Heights Rifle Club now has facilities to offer prospective draftees an approved pre-induction course in marksmanship to give them a "head start" when inducted into any branch of the Armed Forces.

The local club is a member of the National Rifle Association which works very closely with the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. The NRA was first in the world to prepare a course of instruction in the use of small arms. This original course was immediately adopted by the Army, and through the years, has been perfected jointly by the NRA and the various branches of the Armed Forces.

The government urges NRA Rifle clubs to offer this approved course to draftees so that men will enter service with sound knowledge of firearms. This permits more time to teach the many other things necessary for a man's own personal safety and effectiveness as a fighting man. The local club has helped a good many inductees from this area, but previously, the club has not been prepared to issue an invitation to all.

The course consists of eight lessons plus actual practice on the club range. The first class will begin next Monday evening, January 24, at 7:30 p. m. at the field house. A slight enrollment fee must be charged to cover cost of textbooks, certificates, etc. The club urges all interested men, aged 17 and up, to phone either Geo. Goewey, Arlington Heights 1860, or B. L. Cochran, Arlington Heights 327-J, at once.

Men hear of economic value of the bible

Dr. Frank Q. Brown, director of public relations of the Chicago Technical college, spoke before the Men's club at the Methodist meeting house on Monday evening, on the subject, "The Economical Value of the Bible."

Dr. Brown in his talk, stressed the important place of the bible, in the economic and cultural development of the world. He pointed out the slowness of progress of all kinds, in countries where the bible and the teachings of Christ are not known and stated that the bible proceeds business and economics in the development of a country. Dr. Brown is a forceful and fluent speaker, and his talk was greatly enjoyed by those present.

The Men's club is open to all men in the community, and forty-five were present on Monday evening to hear Dr. Brown.

Dr. B. T. Best will be the speaker for next Monday evening, when he will talk on the early days of Arlington Heights. No one in the village is better qualified to present this subject, for he was born and raised here, and has spent much time in the study of the history of this area.

Next Monday evening is Dads and Lads night, and a large crowd is anticipated. The time, 8 p. m., the place, The Methodist Meeting House. All men and their sons are cordially invited.

Need still more Red Cross workers

Surgical dressing workers are still needed at the Arlington Heights field house, and are urged to give a few hours work each week, folding bandages for the war effort. The field house is open on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday for this work, and again on Monday and Thursday evenings. No training is needed for this work, it is not difficult, and the small piles of gleaming white bandages prepared by each individual, grow as they are added to like piles of bandages made by women all over the country. They are a needed and necessary part of the war effort, which must be carried on by civilians. Plan to give a few hours each week to this very important part of saving the lives of the battle wounded boys.

Display your colors

Every patriotic home in America will want to put up this emblem!

This emblem is a symbol of your patriotism. It tells the world that you have done your full share in the 4th War Loan. Every true American will be proud to display it at home.

Our valiant fighting men . . . soldiers, sailors and marines . . . on every far-flung battlefield are on the attack . . . forging ahead steadily, relentlessly. Nothing on earth can stop them . . . IF WE BACK THEM UP!

Backing them up means throwing every dollar we can possibly spare into the fight right now . . . even if it takes sacrifice on our part.

That's the purpose of this 4th War Loan Drive.

To earn the right to display the 4th War Loan Emblem you must invest in at least one EXTRA hundred dollar Bond (at a cost of only $75) . . . over and above your regular War Bond subscription. But don't stop with one! Invest in all the extra Bonds you think you can afford . . . then invest in some more!

Remember, every dollar you put into War Bonds does double duty. It helps to win the war . . . and at the same time it insures your own financial security.

Here, too, is a chance to help your company meet its quota in this 4th War Loan.

Maybe this will mean sacrifice on your part. Maybe it will mean doing without something you want. But don't forget . . . while you are only lending a few spare dollars . . . thousands of our gallant fighting men are giving their lives for you! Show that you're backing them up 100%. Invest in extra War Bonds to the limit of your ability. And display the 4th War Loan Emblem at home!

BUILD YOUR FUTURE WITH THE WORLD'S SAFEST INVESTMENT

All over the country men and women look to the future with confidence. They are the ones who have put part of their extra wartime earnings into the world's safest investment—U. S. Government War Bonds.

Yes, they are helping their country in its grim-mest struggle. But they are helping themselves, too! They are helping to secure their future, to weather any troubled days that may lie ahead.

What about you? Are you letting the dollars slip through your fingers—dollars that should be put safely away in War Bonds?

There are War Bonds to fit your needs . . . Bonds that are backed up by the strongest "company" in the world. Build that home you have always dreamed about. Send your child to college. Buy the wonderful things that are coming after the war. YOU CAN DO IT WITH YOUR WAR BOND SAVINGS.

Virginia

From Camp Peary, Virginia, comes word of Wally Cramer of Palatine.

"Kept pretty busy here, running movies until 8 at night. I then study and fix up material for the plane recognition classes. Still cold here, just enough to be miserable. When it thaws it's good and muddy."

His address is W. E. Cramer CM 3/C, Ships Co IMTS, Camp Peary, Va.

Third class petty officer Wallace Carling of Bartlett is home on furlough. His ship is now at Norfolk, Virginia.

New York

Lieut. Donald E. Welflin of Wheeling, stationed at Mitchell Field, N. Y., was captain of the A-1 First Fighter Bowling Team which won the Officers National League Championship. He was also individual high single national league scorer.

Glenview

Aviation Cadet James E. Millay, Jr., has been transferred to the Naval Air Station at Glenview, for Primary flight training.

His new address is A/C James E. Millay, Jr., USNAS Class 1-A-44, Right Wing, Glenview, Ill.

England

Writing from England is Lawrence Lee of Mt. Prospect.

"I used to take Mt. Prospect for granted when I was home, but now miss it very much. I am in England and getting along famously. Where I am I can merely watch, but I wish I could be one of those in the real action."

"We lack the conveniences such as central heating, hot water, modern plumbing, but soon got used to it. The English are very friendly and many times give dances and exhibits for us."

His address is Lt. L. B. Lee, 0-561490, APO 637 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Iran

Coming from Iran is a note from Walter Gosch of Mt. Prospect.

"Thanks to the Lions for the Christmas gift. It was great. Makes me realize the people at home are backing us up."

His address is Sgt. Walter Gosch, 36346512, APO 796 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

No. Carolina

Changing his address in No. Carolina is Leonard Hartman of Palatine. His former station was Fort Bragg, North Carolina. New address is Sgt. Leonard Hartman, Co F 88 Glider Inf, APO 333, Camp Mackall, N. C.

Evanston

From Robert Godbarsen of Palatine comes the following letter.

"It is certainly high time that I take a few moments off from my studies to express my sincerest thanks to you, the auxiliary and all others involved in the sending of the Palatine Enterprise to those of us in the service."

"Despite the fact that the paper has been coming for almost six months now I am still slightly taken aback with the arrival of each issue. I never thought that those of stations so close to home would be accorded these privileges. I am still highly doubtful as to whether we deserve them."

"I have just passed the mid-semester point of my junior year in my electrical engineering studies. Each semester finds more and more of the boys dropping out because of scholastic deficiencies as the courses get tougher. For the last three semesters I have come up against courses that I was almost sure had me licked before I was really started but in each case the end of the semester found me getting my best grade in the course that gave me my greatest trouble."

"I now have the doubtful distinction of having spent over half of my Navy career on crutches or in a limping condition because of my recent leg fracture. I am still on the excuse list from all formations, drills, calisthenics. I suppose it has its good points but I'd sooner be in their pitching with both legs."

His address is Robert Godbarsen, Jr., AS-USNR V-12 Phi Gamma Delta 18, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Italy

Pfc. Lawrence Koch of East Maine writes from Italy.

"When I last wrote you I was in North Africa. I am now on the front lines in Italy. I am in the 5th army under command of General Clark. I believe you have all heard or read about him. I entered the front lines Nov. 25, 1943. That was Thanksgiving day and also my birthday. What a celebration I had! I know that I'll never forget that first day on the front. When I heard the first shell whistle over my head and land some distance from me I hit the ground so hard that my imprint was clearly visible when I got up. I'll admit, it was very soft mud. After ducking those whining shells for three weeks I was told that it does no good to duck when you can hear them as they will always land far enough away. It's those shells that you don't hear that you have to be afraid of. Well, that sort of puts me in an awkward position as I'm trying to figure out how I'll know when to duck from a shell that I don't hear."

"Up to now, everything is going along very well. There have been shells close to me, in fact too close for comfort but the dear Lord has been guarding me. The two other most important things which we have to be cautious about are booby traps and land mines. Land mines are quite numerous and all new areas have to be detected before we can enter with our vehicles."

"We have had very few air raids from the enemy. The few we did have you can be sure they were very sorry they ever came over. I also had the occasion to speak to three Germans after we captured them off a mountain. They were 19, 27 and 36 years old, respectively. They were poorly clad and very much fatigued and frightened."

"This is about all the information I am allowed to give out. I would like to write more, but maybe some day I may tell it instead of writing."

"I am very well here in my foxhole although I have the foxhole blues. Here's hoping I'll see you all again in 1944."

His address is Pfc. Lawrence H. Koch, APO 464 c/o Postmaster, New York, New York.

Corporal Thomas Philbin of Palatine writes from Africa.

"We were in Africa for a little of the late fall and early winter. It was enjoyable there, warm in the day time and cool at night. Here in sunny Italy, or so it is called, it was nice, but has been pretty chilly of late."

"We weren't in Africa very long, but it was long enough to suit me. There was little or nothing to do there, outside of seeing Casa Blanca, Algiers, Bizerte and other places of interest. Here in Italy it is a little different. We are near a couple of Red Cross shows and we go regularly."

"Food is very expensive outside of camp, mostly because there isn't too much. The army is trying to hold down prices by setting a ceiling price and is meeting with some success."

"Some of Italy was bombed quite heavily. I'd hate to see our American cities in the state of some of these. We have good quarters and that is really something over here. I am a radio operator and I like the work although sometimes the 'dits and dots' get me down."

"You don't realize what a wonderful country we live in until you see some of them on this side of the pond."

One of the Palatine boys who has been in the thick of it for a long period of time is Russel Golden. His letter comes to us from "Somewhere in Italy."

"Today is the beginning of a New Year and I hope that it will be better than the one that we just left behind, with a Big Victory included. I had a letter from Cliff Haemker and he told me about John O'Brien being missing in action. I was so sorry to hear that and I hope that they will soon find out that he is a prisoner if not better news than that."

"After about nine months we have finally heard from some of our gang that are prisoners in Germany."

"The last Palatine paper that I received was an October issue. Hope that I get some more recent ones soon as I must be 'way behind' on the news. I hope to be back in Palatine soon."

His address is T/5 Russ Golden, APO 251, c/o PM, New York City, N. Y.

L. O. K.

LOK is all we can say about Paul Glaister of Mt. Prospect. Our records do not show whether he is on the sea, or at a shore station.

"Wish to take this method of thanking the Lions for their Christmas gifts to the men in service. It was a welcome surprise. It was good to learn of the enthusiastic way in which the people back home are supporting the war effort. There is nothing which is so destructive of the morale of our armed forces as word that the people back home are quibbling about working five minutes overtime, or are striking about something which looks pretty unimportant to men who cannot relax a moment twenty-four hours a day. Keep it up."

His address is Lt. (j.g.) P. J. Glaister USNR, Navy 115, Box 48, c/o FPO, N. Y., N. Y.

Elmer Lauffenburger of Palatine has changed his address. It is now Cpl. Elmer J. Lauffenburger, 16096312 APO 12355, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

New Hampshire

Raymond C. Hahnfeldt, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Hahnfeldt, Chicago, Ill., Palatine, has been enrolled in the Navy V-12 unit at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H.

Entrance into the special training unit enables seaman Hahnfeldt to take a series of approved university courses. The regular academic curriculum is supplemented with military drill, physical education and Naval Organization. The young Bluejacket will also have the opportunity to participate in competitive sports and campus activities.

Satisfactorily completing the V-12 program, seaman Hahnfeldt will be sent to one of the many Midshipman Schools established for the training of Naval Reserve Officers. The Bluejackets will be commissioned as Ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve after successful completion of the midshipman course.

Aleutians

Sending a short letter from the Aleutians is Henry Pasch of Palatine.

"I am in the Aleutian area and have been for quite some time. During this time I've seen a lot of action, though most of it was during the early part of my stay."

"I received basic training at Fort Belvoir in Virginia. In March I was sent to California. I had four days in which to get used to the sunshine, when we were shipped out. What a change."

"But they can't find a place too tough for the army engineers. I am proud of the engineers. I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of Palatine for their part in doing so much for us in the service."

His address is Pvt. H. Pasch, 36629892 APO 726 c/o PM, Seattle, Washington.

So. Pacific

Another letter from the South Pacific area is one from Anton Cipri of Palatine.

"It gets very hot down here with the sun at 6:30 p. m. about as hot as it is at noon at home. It begins to cool off about 3 a. m. It starts to rain here at any time and reminds me of spring showers at home. The sky will clear very suddenly and it is hard to believe that it rained at all."

"Our cooks are really hitting the ball now. We had fresh baked cake yesterday and always have fresh butter. Canned fruit is also plentiful and we have it at every meal."

"The Palatine Enterprise hasn't arrived yet and I anxiously anticipate it in every mail call as it means so much to me. I cannot understand the delay as I sent my new address to Paddock Publications. I hope it arrives soon."

"I just returned from chow. Our menu was baked macaroni and cheese, bread, butter and jam, apple pie, fruit salad and cocoa. Didn't get any mail again today. Please give my address to EVERYONE and urge them to write. Mail from home is the most wonderful thing that happens to us out here."

His address is Cpl. Anton Cipri 36726423, APO 709 c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

From somewhere in the South Pacific Clarence Deering of Palatine writes.

"I'm sorry that it's been so long since I've written, but we've made another move. We had two Christmas dinners. One on the ship and one after we got here. The one on the boat wasn't enjoyed by many of the guys, though. I haven't met anybody from Palatine here as yet."

"The first two days here were terrible, but it has been nice since. The place didn't look like what we had here, but it's ok now, and I think that I might get to like it. This island is much prettier than the one we were on. We had a hike yesterday and another today. I didn't have to go today as I had a blister as a result of yesterday. I don't want to miss out on the Enterprise so here is my new address."

His address is Pvt. Clarence Deering 36377576, APO 33, c/o Postmaster San Francisco, Calif.

Connecticut

Arthur K. Blakeway has been awarded by the War Department an emblem for exceptional service during the performance of duties at the Army Air Forces Training Command School at Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Civilian personnel at this station aid the Army in jobs ranging from administrative work to classroom and field instruction of aviation cadets in Armament, Aircraft Maintenance Engineering, Communications and photography.

Over a year ago the AAFTC school at Yale enlisted the help of civilian specialists, professional men and women who came from every state in the country to take up the responsibility of training aviation cadets on an around-the-clock schedule.

In recognition of this timely help the War Department recently announced its decision to award an emblem to employees who had distinguished themselves by their length and excellence of service to the army. The emblem itself is similar to a soldier's service ribbon and is identified by the wings of the Army Air Forces.

Blakeway arrived at Yale just a year ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Blakeway of Palatine. He and his wife are living at RFD No. 5, West Haven, Connecticut. He is a former instructor in the Palatine school.

India

Believed to be in India is Melvin Schuring of Palatine.

"The starvation here is worse than you read about at home. Those stories are nothing to what real conditions are. Some whole towns have died of disease and starvation, 10 to 20 thousand in some. I've seen hundreds lying in the streets starving to death and believe me, it's not a pretty sight. It's a sight I'll always remember."

"We used to dump the garbage in the river and the starving natives would stand in the water up to their chin, waiting for us to dump it so they could eat it right away. No matter how bad we think we have it, it's not as bad as it is here."

"Have heard rumors that there are still head hunters around, but haven't seen any yet. I'll do my hunting against the Japs. And you don't have to go far to see one either. Most of the country around here is jungle and small villages."

His address is Pfc. Melvin Schuring, 36012743 APO 466 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Sending a brief note from India is Edwin Piepenbrink of Mt. Prospect.

"Sure appreciate that recent Lions club Christmas gift. I appreciate the thought that goes with it. India is a strange land with strange customs, dress, language and religions. I am a medical soldier working in a hospital. I have gained 15 lbs. since coming to India, so have nothing to kick about."

His address is Pvt. Edwin Piepenbrink, 36657612, APO 689 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Idaho

From Farragut, Idaho, comes a card from Red Harris of Arlington Heights.

"Just had the Herald given to me by A. Kehe (Arlington) from the barracks next to me. Would like to have it sent every week. This life is swell. Scenery is most beautiful I've ever seen. Lots of good food."

His address is E. J. Harris, AS, Co 19-44, Camp Hill, Farragut, Idaho.

Oscar Laurance S 2/C of Wheeling, is at home on a fifteen day furlough following his boot training at Farragut, Idaho. Oscar has qualified for training in a torpedo school and expects to enter such a school after his return to Farragut. After spending a year making torpedoes at Amertorp, he will have the new experience of using them.

Massachusetts

Private First Class Arthur Gieseke surprised his parents Friday afternoon when he called from Arlington to "Come pick me up." He is stationed with the Ordnance Maint. Co. at Camp Edwards, Mass.

Art is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Gieseke, who reside on Buffalo Grove rd., Arlington Heights. They also have two more sons in service; Wilbert, a 1st Lieut in the Marine Air Corps is a pilot on a dive bomber stationed at Santa Ana, California; and Pfc. Richard, who left last July, is in Fort Bliss, Texas, in the Anti-Aircraft Artillery.

California

Bank nets $20

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted Harold Dieball, now in Italy, $20, bringing the bank total to $1,972. This week August Dieball is the driver of the traveling paycar.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

Niles is just about ready to receive the official nod as the champion of the unofficial Northeast Conference in basketball. Chief rival of the Trojans, the Libertyville Wildcats, has been downed twice. How Crystal Lake compares with the Trojans can be determined soon when the Lakers meet Libertyville but it looks like Niles has honors their own way this year.

NW Conf. makes proposals

The Northwest Conference coaches met at Barrington Monday night in an interesting meeting at which a lot of things were discussed and quite a few proposals were made to be acted upon by the principals at their next meeting. Among the recommendations were the following:

- (1) That the 1942 football schedule be adopted for 1944. This is a slight change from the 1943 schedule in that the final week will find Palatine playing at Bensenville, Barrington at Northbrook, and Grant at Antioch which features natural rivalries.
- (2) That the 1943-44 basketball schedule be adopted for 1944-45 with location of games just reversed.
- (3) That the conference basketball tournament be held on three nights of December 21-22-23.
- (4) That the conference recognize championships in football, basketball, baseball, and track and award trophies in all these sports out of the league tournament funds.

Plan for spring sports

All the schools except Wauconda were represented at Monday's meeting. A poll showed that Antioch, Bensenville, Barrington, and Palatine will have track this coming spring and that Ela, Northbrook, Grant, and Barrington will play baseball. It is thought that Wauconda will have track if they participate in any spring sports. The conference track meet was scheduled for Wednesday, May 24 at Palatine at 6:00 p. m. A two-night meet has proved very successful the past two years.

Two torrid teams

While Palatine was setting some records by shooting 54% against Northbrook from the field, getting 12 out of 15 free throws, and Mel Vogt scoring 28 points, there was another team in the area that was even more torrid in their shooting. We refer to Crystal Lake's Tigers who ran up a 26-6 lead on Arlington the first quarter and finished with 79 points. Hayden, who averaged 19 a game in the McHenry tourney, burned up the nets with 31 points. And not a senior on that Crystal Lake squad.

Hard luck team

Coach Graham's Barrington Bronchos rate the hard luck award of the season. The Bronchos have lost four out of six conference games and three of the losses were as follows: Palatine two overtimes, Wauconda one overtime, and Bensenville one point. Had these games turned the other way Barrington would now be tied with Bensenville for second in the conference.

Grade school

fives compete

The Palatine grade school age boys who practice basketball regularly on Thursday evenings at the high school gym defeated two teams of freshmen in a double header last Saturday morning. The seventh graders beat a team of small freshmen 21-19 in an overtime while the eighth graders beat the regular freshman team 16-11. Saturday at 11:00 a. m. the eighth graders will play Arlington at the Arlington high school gym and the following Saturday, January 29, both seventh and eighth grade squads from Arlington will play at Palatine starting at 1:30 p. m.

The Arlington Heights Dads club is organizing a seventh grade league in Arlington Heights. Churches will sponsor four or five teams there and a Palatine seventh grade team will play in the league under the sponsorship of the Palatine high school athletic department.

Water Content Reduced

New methods of dehydration reduce the water content of fruits and vegetables to as little as 5 per cent, and shrink them to about one-sixth their size when fresh. Three crates of carrots shrink to just enough to fill a five-gallon can, which will serve 600 soldiers when brought back to its original bulk.

Barrington loses, 28-27; lights win

Bensenville held off a fast finishing Barrington team Friday to gain a 28-27 victory for their sixth straight conference win. The Bisons were in front 20-13 at the half but got only one basket in the last two quarters while the Bronchos were rallying to make it another of those nip and tuck affairs which Barrington has developed a habit of losing. Again it was free throwing that was Barrington's downfall.

The Bisons played very smooth ball during the first part of the game. The second half was a plenty rough affair. The Bisons did a lot of successful stalling in the last quarter to protect a 27-21 lead. Kernats with 10 points topped the Bisons. Gaulke with 13 led the Bronchos.

The Barrington lights pulled steadily away from the junior Bisons 18-9 at the half and 24-12 starting the final period. Then Bensenville rallied to score nine points and pulled up to a more respectable 28-23 score at the finish. Huffman and Ernsting got seven points apiece for Bensenville while Gaulke chalked up 10 for Barrington's Ponies.

Friday Bensenville is host to Palatine's Pirates in what should be just about the best home doubleheader on the Bison's schedule.

Lakers outpoint Arlington, 79-51

Tornadoes lose on free throws

by JOE SMART

Crystal Lake shoved off to a long early lead and whipped the Cards, 79-51, in a wide open game last Friday. Although both teams used zone defenses a total of fifty-three baskets were made in the thirty-two minute contest. It was Crystal Lake's annual party night and the boys put on a great show for the folks.

Jim Hayden, small, left-handed forward poured thirty-one points through the hoop on twelve baskets and seven charity shots. Reddersdorf also compiled twenty for the Tigers. These two had enough to tie the Cards alone. Dahlstrom with nineteen points was high for the Cards, and as last week played an outstanding game.

The teams were evenly matched except for the Tigers alertness and ability to steal the ball and score on fast breaks. As in some previous games the Cards passing was ragged.

The Lakers built up a 26-7 lead in the first quarter mainly on Hayden's eleven points. Both quintets played even-steven throughout the second period and the Tigers held an intermission lead of 40-21.

Reddersdorf pushed in five baskets in the third period as the Tigers increased their margin to 58-33. Dahlstrom then led the Cardinals in a rally but the Tigers were too hot and they again managed to outpoint the Cards with 21 to 18 points. The final tally was 79-51.

Tornadoes lose 30-28

Hank Ehard sparked a great second half rally in which the Tornadoes came from far behind only to lose 30-28. The Tornadoes had

The Arlington - Crystal Lake high scoring spree last Friday evening merely increased the mystery surrounding the ability of the Cardinal quintet. This has been an in and out season, in which the play of the Varsity has been extremely spotty. It has performed rather well on occasions, and then quite unpredictably, has turned in miserable performances, as in the Warren, Woodstock, and the Maine contests.

We received the impression from Heights' fans and from some of the players, that they were rather well satisfied with the Crystal Lake shellacking inasmuch as the Cards managed to score 51 points and notwithstanding the fact that the opponent outscored them by a mere 28 points. In an attempt to accurately judge reactions we interviewed various people and this is what they had to say:

AN ARLINGTON FAN: "Crystal Lake was just too hot—our boys didn't have a chance."

THE CRYSTAL LAKE COACH: "This is the best Arlington team I've seen in years."

COACH SEIDLER: "Arlington slipped back many weeks tonight. We lost by our mistakes. Our passing was poor, our defense nonexistent, our rebounding punk, and our fight noticeably absent."

SAHIB ALLEY WHICH ALLEY: "It was evident to me that Arlington did not play to the limit of its ability. They seemed to lose heart early in the game and never did much after that. It might be well if they would read the ARLINGTON ATHLETIC CODE often."

A PLAYER'S DAD: "It was just one of those things. Wait till next week!"

We are waiting very patiently! What'll it be this week boys, champs, or asorans?

Sidelines

We noticed that Coach Seidler was comparatively calm on the bench last Friday. Was that an indication of greater will power or is he getting used to the unexpected?

Hear tell that Bob Kleiner is back in the fold. Let's really show them what you can do Bob! Hear that Pat McDonald is down with the flu. You can lick tougher things than that, Pat, so hurry up and get well.

Wouldn't it be a lot nicer if our fans would treat our visitors as guests, rather than intruders? We have noticed on several occasions that Coach Seidler has tried to stop the Arlington crowd from behaving in an unsportsmanlike manner. We all want to win, but not at the expense of sportsmanship. Our team is trying to set an example—why don't we help it?

Card of the Week

In the 79-51 loss to Crystal Lake, one Card shone out among all the rest. When other members of the team became discouraged, he played even harder. When rebounding was necessary, he supplied it. Coach Seidler described this boy as his most valuable player. "He is entirely a TEAM player, is consistent, reliable, unselfish, and he NEVER gives up."

In addition to this recommendation by the Coach, he played a stellar game on offense and defense, and in addition was the Cards' high point man by a wide margin. For his all around excellence of attitude and ability, we salute as the CARD OF THE WEEK

Wesner elected to head coaches

Coach H. L. Wesner of Ela High, Lake Zurich, was elected president Monday of the Northwest conference coaches association and Al Kroll, popular athletic director of Antioch High was voted in as secretary.

Wesner has been coach at Ela for about 15 years. He has won numerous baseball championships and had an undefeated basketball team in the 1937-38 season. This year Ela leads the league and was the recent Northwest Tourney victor. Wesner was an outstanding basketball player at Ripon college in Wisconsin in his younger days.

learning the cage game under the tutelage of Harold Olsen who has for years been head cage coach at Ohio State.

Kroll was a member of one of Libertyville's greatest football teams and later a star in the line at Lake Forest College. This is Kroll's first year as head coach at Antioch. He assisted C. A. Wolfenbarger prior to the latter leaving for a navy commission. Kroll is one of the best liked coaches in the league and has been doing well in spite of decided shortage of material at Antioch.

HEIGHTS FROSH WIN

Arlington freshmen beat Palatine 17-12 Monday on the Heights court. Palatine was leading 12-11 with a minute and 10 seconds to play but Arlington hit for three 3's in a quick field goal.

Pirates maul N'brook, 64-21; lights lose

M. Vogt sinks 28 points as locals make half of shots

Palatine split with Northbrook Friday in a pair of unusual basketball games. Northbrook's winless lightweights got their first victory of the year 19-18 at the expense of Palatine's undefeated Northwest leaders. Palatine's weak scoring varsity got red hot and snowed under Northbrook 64-21 with twice as many field goals as they had made in any game this year.

The Pirates, led by Mel Vogt's 28 points, had the best night of shooting in the history of a strong basketball school. Twenty six field goals were scored out of 48 shots for a remarkable percent of 54.2. At the same time the Pirates were making good on 12 out of 15 free throws. Vogt's 28 points of which 13 were scored in the last quarter set a Palatine and Northwest Conference individual game record.

In the first half Palatine played a slow deliberate offense against their opponents, working a merry-go-round until some one broke free to score. As a result only 16 shots were attempted in the first half, but nine were good for baskets. Northbrook did some good shooting and stayed with the Pirates 11-9 at the quarter but fell way back 24-11 at half time. Palatine moved farther ahead 38-15 at the third quarter and then Vogt and Douglas really ran wild in the last period as 26 points were scored on Northbrook's six. Besides Vogt's 28 Douglas had 15 of which he tallied 10 in the last quarter. Every member of Palatine's seven man squad scored two or more points.

Northbrook shifted men on their basketball squad and moved three under class players from the varsity to the lightweights and is now operating with nearly all seniors on the varsity. The result is a much strengthened lightweight team. Carpenter, Brown, and Don Dahlberg were the boys moved down to the lightweights. These boys were mainly responsible for Northbrook's lightweight victory.

Northbrook led the Palatine juniors 7-4 at the quarter and 9-8 at the half. The boys were tied in the third period 13 all and not more than two points separated them right down to the finish. Palatine had several close in shots in the last 10 seconds of the game but could not hit. Neither team could make free throws. Palatine missed 12 out of 18 and the visitors were guilty of 16 misses in 23 tries. Each team made six baskets with Palatine taking 33 shots and Northbrook 24. The young Pirates were definitely far below the form they showed before Christmas.

Ela defeats Barrington, 44-16

In non-conference games Tuesday night Ela's strong varsity quintet, headed Barrington a 44-16 wallpoiner while Barrington's lights finished on top 31-18 in the preliminary.

Ela's well balanced scoring combination had too much on the ball for the Bronchos. The regulars scored as follows: Rudy 13, N. Ladd 9, Hapke 10, J. Ladd 7, and Holland 5. Gaulke's seven points was high for Barrington.

Expect 35 billion housing setup in post-war decade

American industry has passed the crest of its superb job of war production, and with few exceptions, notably in aircraft, cutbacks may be expected to appear in greater volume during 1944. What this means to you and me is that we'll begin to get some of the things we have sacrificed to build democracy's arsenal.

Dollar volume of aircraft production will be boosted 75 per cent; Signal Corps equipment will be raised. But already there have been significant cuts in small arms ammunition. One of the most important jobs on the materials front is the production of alcohol for war uses — largely for synthetic rubber and explosives production. This year's schedule for alcohol production by the whisky distilling industry alone, now converted completely to war production, calls for 240,000,000 gallons, compared with a 1943 output estimated at 200,000,000 gallons.

On the other hand, some materials already are in excess supply. For example, some reductions have been made in aluminum production, especially on the Eastern seaboard, where the coal crisis has made it important to save vast amounts of coal needed to make the steam which produces the electric power used in the electrolytic process of making aluminum.

35 billion housing

With this gradual change in the production picture shaping up, even manufacturers who are still devoting all their productive effort to war production are beginning to build definite plans for post-war employment. Significant from the standpoint of the effect upon both ### ity work, snow-plowing and operation of farm machinery.

Train equipment

Looking to the immediate future, David A. Crawford, president of the Pullman Company, reporting on a railroad job in 1943 of some 85 billion passenger miles, notes an improvement in the material and manpower situations which may make it possible in 1944 for passenger-car plants to build new rolling stock to ease overburdened conditions in passenger travel.

For the post-war period, Crawford envisions a vast modernization program, in which Pullman's part will revolve around the addition of two new types of sleeping cars—the coach-sleeper and the Duplex Roomette. The coach-sleeper, with comfortable sleeping accommodations for 42 to 45 persons, according to variations in layout, is designed to reach into the economy-travel market. The Duplex-Roomette provides 24 private single bedrooms and Pullman engineers believe that when they are introduced in considerable numbers, it will be possible to sell accommodations on them at fares little, if any, higher than present lower berth rates.

Draft changes

Occupational deferments generally will be denied 18 to 22-year-old registrants, other than those in agriculture, fathers and non-fathers alike, unless they are engaged in activities in which deferment is specifically authorized, according to Selective Service. Furthermore, all registrants will be given pre-induction physical examination at least 21 days before being inducted. Therefore, the period of three weeks in the enlisted reserve now granted by the army and the one-week period granted by the navy will be eliminated. These changes become effective February 1.

Vets opportunity

Returning war veterans may enter virtually any of the 30,207 apprentice training programs in the United States. Age restrictions and other limitations have been especially lifted for veterans in many apprenticeship standards so they may obtain training for skilled work, according to the War Manpower Commission.

Baby buggies

Pre-war model baby carriages, strollers, walkers, and pushchairs will re-appear on the market in about six weeks, according to W.P.B. Greater availability of steel makes possible the production of these pre-war models.

Tea

About 76 million pounds of tea will be available to civilian consumers in 1944-wartime limitations on shipping space permitting. This is about 16 million pounds more than civilians got in 1943.

Social security

Social insurance for farm operators, farm workers, business and professional men, household workers and employees of government and non-profit organizations was recommended by the Social Security Board in its eighth annual report. The Board urged inclusion of these groups in an expanded social security program which would include insurance against costs of medical and hospital care without disturbing the present principle of free choice in selection of physicians or hospitals. The Board recommended that a comprehensive social insurance system should be set up now while earnings are "at record levels" in order to have it in full operation for the post-war period.

Farm machinery

Less than 3 per cent of the United States production of farm machinery went for Lend-Lease between March 11, 1941, and November 1, 1943, according to the President's thirteenth report to Congress on Lend-Lease operations. Allied need for farm machinery was increased because of military demands. American flying fortresses now use airfields which four years ago were among Britain's best farms, thus necessitating reclamation of marshes and rough hill land for farm acreages. When Australia was threatened by Japanese invasion early in 1942, thousands of Australian farm tractors were conscripted for construction of military roads and airfields. Moreover, British and Australian farm machinery manufacturing facilities early in the war had been converted to ordnance production.

Rubber

Crude rubber imports to the United States from the other American republics in 1943 nearly doubled over the 1942 total, according to figures from the Rubber Development Corporation. Total imports from Latin America in 1943 were estimated at about 26,400 long tons.

Mexico to Build Planes
The Mexican government announces that a privately financed factory is being constructed in Mexico City to manufacture plastic airplanes. The planes will be used for training purposes now, and for commercial purposes after the war. Engines will be imported from the United States, but Mexican materials will be used in constructing the rest of the aircraft.

Alloys Have Great Strength
New steel alloys are three times the weight of aluminum and almost five times the weight of magnesium, but their tensile strength approximates 100,000 pounds to the square inch.

Vegetables

With the upward trend of vegetable prices at the present time, Chicago homemakers will have to take care carefully in order to keep food costs down, according to Joe Tonkin, Federal Food Reporter for the War Food Administration. Prices on higher vegetables are usually higher during the winter months because much of the stock is shipped in from southern and western growing districts.

Among the better buys, however, are Illinois squash and Canadian rutabagas. Acorn is the best buy in squash... although for variety homemakers can use Hubbard and Marbled. While they are large in size, they will keep for a few days, even after being cut. In relish items, Michigan celery cabbage can be obtained at quite moderate cost, and it is a fine, delicately flavored item. Florida and Louisiana escarole is arriving in larger quantities and is also suggested for menu planning at this time. While the bunched root vegetables of good quality command fairly high prices, the homegrown stock with the tops off can be obtained for a moderate outlay.

Supplies of head lettuce have dropped off and prices have moved slightly higher. Green beans are also in lighter supply as the result of crop damage in Florida. The Florida celery season is now getting under way, and more of the Goldenheart or blanching celery will be available. Western cabbage is holding at ceiling levels. In the luxury vegetables, cauliflower is priced moderately, and increased shipments of broccoli have resulted in a price decline.

Citrus fruits claim the home-maker's attention at the fruit counters, since they are not only plentiful but quite reasonable in price. Tangerines are here for their relatively short season. They are recommended for use along with grapefruit and oranges. Apples are another good fruit choice right now, with Jonathans, Delicious, Spys, Romes, and Rhode Island Greenings the principal varieties offered.

Tractors

Production of wheeled tractors in December was the largest for any month in two years—in excess of 20,000 as compared with 4,200 in December, 1942. However, according to the WPB, the current rate of production must be maintained in order to meet the tractor quota of 209,000 for the 12 months that will end June 30. This will not be easy because many of the parts needed for tractor production are also used in landing craft, now in urgent demand by the armed services.

Aussie food

A great portion of Australia's food output in 1944 will go to the American troops in the Southwest Pacific area. Production of whole milk, butter, beef and veal, and mutton and lamb will be increased over 1943. Production goals for 1944 aim at an increase over 1943 figures of 67,000 tons of pork and 40 million dozen eggs. The program also calls for at least two bushels of fresh fruit for every Australian.

Ration power

Under the new ration token plan effective February 27, the housewife will be able to buy about the same amount of rationed processed foods and meats-fats as she can now. Point values will be adjusted so the individual's allotment of 60 points for buying meats and fats will buy the same amount as the present allotment of approximately 64 points. Similarly, under the token plan the 50-point allotment for processed foods will buy an amount equal to the present 48-point allotment.

Languages

Through a series of phrase-books supplemented by phonograph records, American troops in the thousands are learning to speak and understand the essentials of as many as 30 different languages. Within a short time, no matter how remote from civilization, soldiers will have opportunity to study in any of 43 languages. Soldiers have been known to learn enough conversation Chinese after 15 hours of study to make friends with Chinese troops.

Food share of income shows record low

Demands of labor leaders that the Public Treasury should be tapped to the tune of billions of dollars for food subsidies to offset the moderate rise in the cost of living are exploded by damaging evidence to the contrary presented in an issue of the USDA Marketing and Transportation Situation, just off the press. The government economists find that American consumers enjoying the highest income in history are eating more and spending less percentage of their income for groceries than ever before. Expenditures for food have risen faster than food prices, but increase in wage income has far eclipsed either expenditures or prices.

(Last January the publication of figures comparing family food expenditures with factory workers' income was discontinued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics following protests from the Department of Labor, prompted by labor leaders' objections, that the report did not fairly present the true situation. When the labor lobbyists continued their demands for additional wage increases and price rollbacks, A. F. B. F. President Edward A. O'Neal urged the Department of Agriculture to resume publication of this type of economic data so that the public could have the facts. Subsequently, a new series of calculations was brought out by BAE. The bases have been revised somewhat to meet the objections of labor, but the results are the same. They show an ever-widening gap in the consumer's favor between income and food costs.)

The current BAE statistics show that only 16 per cent of consumer income per capita was required in March, 1943, to purchase the same quantity of food consumed annually per capita from 1935 to 1939. In that period grocery bills absorbed 23 per cent of income, so that today consumers are 7 points, or 30 per cent better off than in the pre-war era.

Actually, however, consumers are now spending 21 per cent of their income for food, because they are eating 10 per cent more food, they are eating higher quality food and more of them are dining out and paying restaurant prices than in 1935-39. Despite this change in eating habits, Americans are paying comparatively less for necessities than during the depression.

Pertinent paragraphs from the BAE report follow:

Lake-Cook farm directors to meet Saturday

The Board of Directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company announces, the Sixteenth Annual meeting of the stockholders to be held at the Rand Park Field House in Des Plaines, on Saturday, January 22. Due to the many business details to be taken care of the day, all of those interested are urged to be there promptly at 10 a. m. when the meeting is called to order by Ed. Harris, of Grayslake, President of the Company.

This meeting will be of vital interest to all the farmers of Lake and Cook counties. Approximately 4,000 of those farmers are Common Stockholders and 400 are Preferred Stockholders. It will be of unusual interest to everyone, as the largest dividend in the sixteen years' history of the Company, $85,000, will be given out that day. Besides this big dividend payment, interesting reports covering the nearly million-dollar volume which was done last year, as well as plans for the large expansion which is taking place, will be discussed.

The Entertainment Committee has been unusually fortunate in being able to obtain George Metzger, Field Secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association as the main speaker of the day. An unusually fine program of music entertainment will be presented by the Harmony Trio of Woodstock, Ill. These famous musicians are well known in this district and their coming will be of much interest.

The famous "Lake-Cook Lunch," which has become a standard of "Free Lunches" in the territory, will again be served by the Lake-Cook Employees.

Everyone is urged to attend and everything is free.

Military needs cut gloves for civilians

Leather gloves for civilian wear will be reduced approximately 50 per cent in the months ahead, according to manufacturers and tanners. At the present the government is considering the use of the better grades of cape and some other leathers for gloves for all branches of the armed forces. To date these leathers have been used only to make gloves for the various women's groups of the army and navy. Horchle has predominated in the production of leather made for the men of the armed forces.

To give the gloves now on hand the best care possible is the logical solution of this shortage problem, says Miss Edna R. Gray, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Mend them promptly and carefully, and whenever possible, prevent them from becoming wet. However, when they are wet, stuff them with crushed paper and dry them slowly and away from the heat.

Usually the glove fingers call for attention first. One very satisfactory method to use in mending either leather or fabric that is worn—not just ripped—is to blanket stitch around the worn edges. Then remake the seam by lacing the edges together through the pur of the blanket stitch. If the fabric is not worn, remake the ripped seam just as you would mend such a seam in any garment. Gloves with seams—seams made to the inside—should be mended with seams to the inside. Those with outseams should be mended with the seams to the outside. Use a hard twisted thread, about the weight of buttonhole twist, and a fine and fairly long needle for mending. A long-eyed needle is not suitable because the thickness of the eye makes the needle holes too large.

One reason why many women dislike mending gloves is that it is difficult to do without catching the finger in the seam of the glove. It will help to use something inside of the finger while the mending is being done. It may be possible to secure an article about the thickness of a small finger at notion counters which will serve the purpose. Some stocking darners have a round handle that will fit into the glove finger. Very often a round clothes pin that is not too large, or a smooth wooden peg, can be used.

Animals Fed Beet Residue

In the case of sugar beets, sugar production and meat production are interrelated by the farm economy which feeds beet tops, pulp and molasses to beef cattle, producing an average of 500 pounds of meat and 3,500 pounds of sugar for every acre of beets.

Created to test cold weather clothing for Uncle Sam's doughboys, this unique laboratory utilizes one of industry's newest electronic devices, an electronic potentiometer developed by the Brown Instrument Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., it was revealed.

Each soldier volunteering for the tests remains for hours at a time in the Arctic room, exposed to temperatures varying from 40 to 60 degrees below zero. During these test periods the new and ingenious electronic device is connected, it was stated, to a wired harness which each man wears under his clothing.

Temperatures at eight points on his body, beneath the clothing being tested, are electronically recorded in a matter of seconds by use of the Brown potentiometer, according to Army officials.

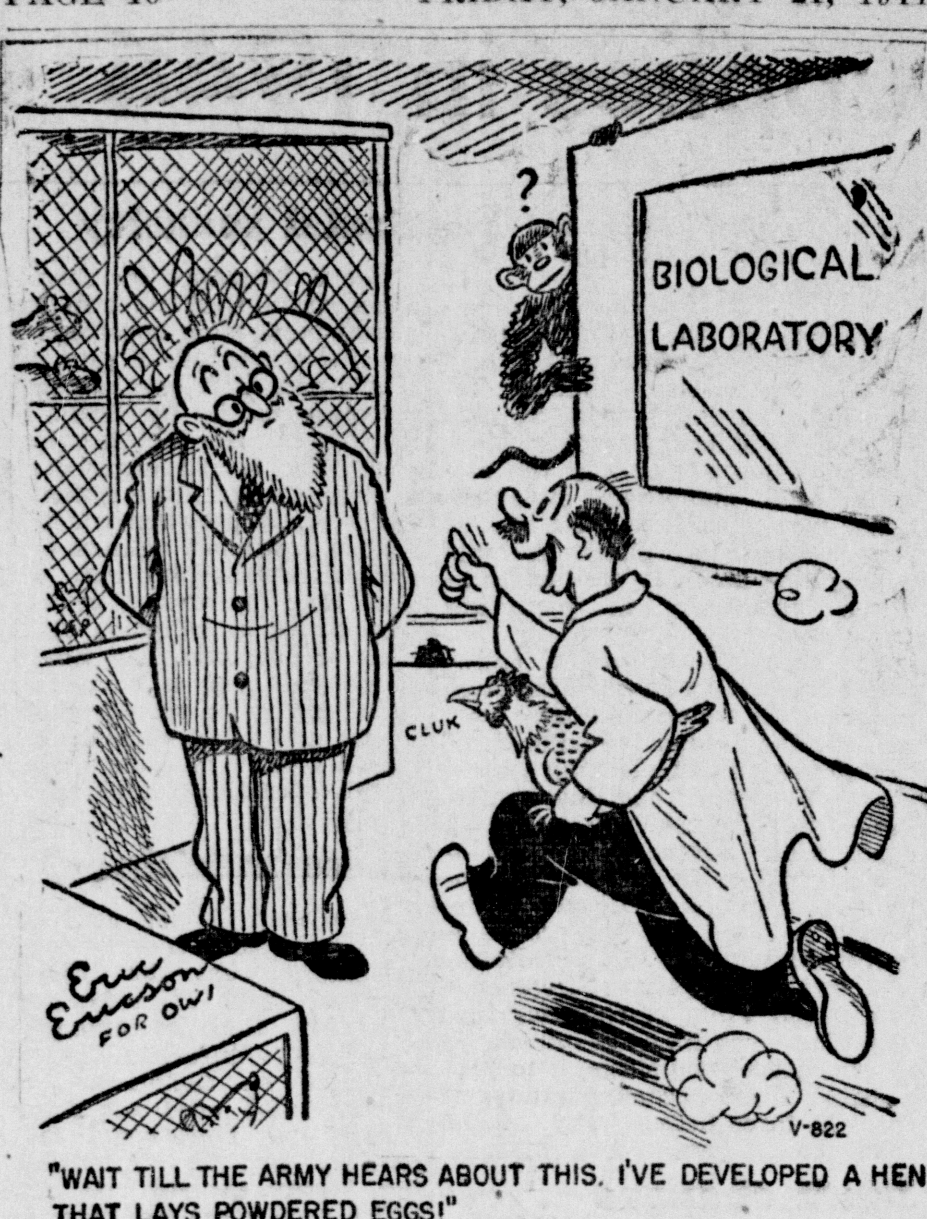

The tests at Lawrence are said to have verified one conviction of veteran Cook county amateur weather experts, namely, that when a man shivers he becomes warmer.

Data accumulated there on the reaction of the human body to long periods of intense cold, and on the warmth-giving qualities of different kinds of clothing and fabrics, have enabled the Quartermaster Corps to make available the improved types of Arctic protection being used by our armed forces.

The results of the tests will, it is believed, be reflected in warmer clothing which will be available to civilians after the war.

Few Enjoy Good Diets

The Bureau of Home Economics estimates that in the pre-war United States only 27 per cent of the people enjoyed good diets; 38 per cent had fair ones, and 35 per cent had poor ones.

'No plowing' old stuff to many local farmers

Disking down plant material instead of plowing is "old stuff" to many midwestern farmers and not a new practice, as a recent book about the "folly" of plowing may lead some readers to believe, says R. S. Stauffer, assistant professor of soil physics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

"For years erosion losses on sloping lands have been reduced by using a disk instead of a plow, although many experiments show that plowed outfields unplowed land," Stauffer says. "Of course soil will have to be plowed."

He believes that some of the readers may have accepted as facts certain theories set forth in the book that are unproved or not tenable. For example, the author seems to point out that if his methods are followed, there will be no need for commercial fertilizers or lime, insect pests will not harm the crops and plant diseases will cease to be a problem.

"It's too bad to have to come down to earth and face the facts after reading some of the statements in this book," he says. "The system described for handling green manure is not a panacea for all the ills of crop production. Neither is the moldboard plow, which has been responsible for much erosion, ready to blow out of the picture. It is still a good implement if properly used."

Estimates point to record use of fertilizers in '43

Purchases of commercial fertilizers by Illinois farmers in 1943 are expected to show an increase of approximately 30 per cent over 1942, according to an estimate of the soil improvement department of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

This estimate is based on the fertilizer sales report for the first six months of 1943 which showed an increase of 33 per cent over the same period in 1942. The first six months total for 1943 was 77,000 tons, and the last six months is expected to push the final 1943 figure considerably over the 1942 year-end figure of 64,000 tons.

The soil improvement department advises farmers to order their 1944 fertilizer supply now and take delivery as early as possible in order to make certain that their needs in the coming year will be met. Ordering early and taking immediate delivery is necessary because of the manpower shortage in the fertilizer industry. It is advocated that when early deliveries are received that the fertilizers be stored in a dry place until they are used.

The soil improvement department also announced that early estimates point to a total of four million tons of limestone used by Illinois farmers in 1943, which would be the highest amount on record.

Prevention from mastitis better than treatment

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of treatment for mastitis (garget) in dairy herds, according to the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Blood testing and disposing of reactors are the most important steps in a prevention program.

Replying to inquiries made by many dairymen about treatment for mastitis, the department points out that, following proper diagnosis, carefully selected animals in the early stages of the disease can be cured and the gland will resume the secretion of normal milk. If judiciously employed, this procedure offers definite advantages in salvaging the productive capacity of affected cows, especially under wartime need of increased milk production.

However, there is no known treatment that repairs the damage caused by mastitis, nor does it increase the resistance of treated animals to reinfection. For this reason, the only reasonable conclusion is that treatment is not the solution to the problem of chronic mastitis.

"Treatment cannot be of any lasting benefit to a dairyman unless simple measures of prevention are employed," the department says. Therefore, the real answer to the mastitis problem is prevention. Treatment is only a means of salvaging mildly infected animals.

Record calendar simple device for checking money

Daily record keeping is one of the first steps to good money management, and a wartime financial calendar is just the device to speed the job and make it simple and easy to do, suggests Mrs. Ruth Freeman, specialist in home accounts, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. It gives a complete daily, weekly and monthly record and enables one to tell at a glance just how the money slides out of the family purse.

This new tool for keeping family accounts, can be purchased for 15 cents from the home economics extension service, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana, Illinois. It is adaptable to town as well as farm accounts, and in addition to being valuable for income tax purposes, gives a sound basis for planning ahead or budgeting.

Each monthly sheet provides space for recording daily expenditures for such items as food, household supplies, clothing, automobile, bus, church, welfare and education. There is space, too, for listing insurance payments, war bonds, and stamps, house repairs, medical care and other expenditures and savings. Income space is under cover on the back of the calendar.

In wartime it is even more important than in peacetime to make a careful spending plan to follow it. The first of the year is the logical time to plan the family budget for the 12 months ahead. The wartime financial calendar, hung in a conspicuous place in the kitchen or den where every member of the family can record his expenditures and savings, will make the job easier to do.

Ceilings on eggs to be lowered, use to fullest

In view of the recent drop in egg prices, it's a good time to dust off some of those favorite recipes and put them back into circulation.

So far as nutritive values are concerned, eggs are regular prize packages, says Miss Annette Young, nutritionist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. They are an outstanding source of iron, one of the minerals in which our diets are likely to be low, and they are also rich in calcium and phosphorus. The proteins of both the white and the yolk are of good quality and, when it comes to vitamins A, B-1 and B-2, and D, are all represented.

There are scores of interesting things to do with them besides boil, fry and scramble them. Omelets are neither difficult nor time-consuming to prepare and many people like them. Souffles are delicious for any meal of the day. Eggs combine well with many other foods in sauces and in creamed and escalloped dishes. They can be used, too, in a great variety of desserts, salads and sandwiches.

Eggs, like most other foods, need care in cooking. One general rule to keep in mind, whatever the method used, is to cook them slowly and over moderate or low heat. Cooking at high temperature or for too long a period of time tends to make them tough and leathery.

Mobile unit at Arlington Feb. 1

Arrangements have been made through the Red Cross for blood donations to be contributed to the supply of blood plasma that is being assembled as a reserve for use of those injured in our armed forces. On February 1 there is to be a Mobile Unit at Arlington Heights for this purpose. The town residents have been contributing rather freely in this, and there are many who have indicated their willingness to make further contributions.

This article is being written especially to the farm people of the Arlington Heights area. Up to the present time our farm friends have been hesitant about coming forward with their offer of contributing blood. Almost every farm home has one or more sons or daughters in the armed forces. They are just as concerned about their sons as are residents of the corporate village. As the war advances, there will be more and more need of blood plasma. It is hard for us to permit the thought to enter our minds that may be some boys will not come back through the lack of life-giving blood that could have been supplied for them. With this thought in mind, this appeal is being made, especially to the farm people to please come forward and make your contribution of blood, as a service to your country.

Arrangements can be made for this by calling Mr. C. H. Mills at the Cook County Farm Bureau. The phone number is 441.

Cause Dysentery

Dysentery may be caused by any one of a number of organisms. In general there are three kinds: that produced by bacilli, by one-celled protozoa, and by metozoa or worms. Bacillary dysentery may be spread by contaminated milk or water, and especially by flies. These can travel four or five miles. To combat them, kitchens in infected regions should be kept screened and darkened.

Had Many Spectacles

The inventory of valuables of Charles V. of England taken after his death in 1558, showed him to be the possessor of 27 pairs of spectacles.

Australia

Sending a letter from Australia this week is Ronald Wessel of Palatine.

"You know, just receiving letters from home is a big thing when you're overseas. The fellows here know it will be a long time before they see the home community again and are interested in what's going on at home. One of my biggest disappointments is in not receiving the Enterprise lately. (Ed. The paper has been leaving the publication office regularly, and must be delayed enroute.)

"It seems to me Palatine has been pretty lucky in its casualty list. Sorry to hear about Johnny O'Brien's disappearance. Hope they find him soon.

"We have one of the best army auditoriums here. We have movies regularly and a vaudeville show on Saturdays. We are kept busy with training but get our passes regularly. The Red Cross club in the nearest town is doing all it can for us. The chaplain has to travel here every week, but we always have our church services. We do pretty well for not having a regular chapel.

"The men from this outfit man merchant ships and the guns aboard them. A fellow will spend time aboard ship, and then go to land for a rest. He is then transferred to another ship. From personal conversation they find it a rather agreeable life, but the furlough time is always appealing.

"I spent the hottest Christmas season I've ever known this year. Seemed funny to have it so hot when I knew the folks at home were enjoying (?) winter weather."

His address is Pvt. Ronald Wessel, 36665382 APO 923 c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Last week's editions included the term Mt. Peanuts in a letter from Walter Niebuhr of Mt. Prospect. We beg to report the term was not used by Walter, but only by the editor. No offense was meant.

So. Carolina

Harold J. Vetter, son of Mrs. Mary Vetter, 112 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, has recently been promoted to the grade of Corporal at Congaree Army Air Field, Columbia, S. C.

Corporal Vetter entered the Army Air Forces in February, 1943 and received his basic training at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo. Later he attended the Air Forces Administration School at Arkansas State College, Jonesboro, Ark., before being assigned to a bombardment squadron at Key Field, Meridian, Miss. He transferred with a group to his present station where he is a clerk in Group Headquarters Intelligence Section. Corporal Vetter also attended the Army Air Forces Photo Interpretation School at McDill Field, Tampa, Fla.

Corporal Vetter graduated from Arlington Heights high school in June, 1941. He was active in sports, playing for two years on the school's basketball team. Before entering the Army, he was employed by the Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. and Bond Stores, Inc. in Chicago. He is a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Arlington Heights.

His sisters, Mrs. Mervin Fink and Miss Jeanette Vetter, also reside in Arlington Heights.

Sending a class book, "High Pitch," from Shaw field, South Carolina, is Roy Bedell of Arlington Heights. Roy had the job of editing the picture class book, a mighty nice job, we would say. Included in the class was Roy who is now taking army air corps advanced training.

Now in the hospital in South Carolina is Donald Peeters of Arlington Heights. His address is Donald Peeters AS V-12, US Naval Hosp., Ward H-9, Charleston, South Carolina.

Texas

Daniel L. Johnson of Palatine was included in four huge new classes of the men who will pave the road to invasion with bombs who were graduated Saturday from the West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle schools of the Army Air Forces Training Command at Midland, San Angelo, Childress and Big Spring. Daniel had trained at Childress.

High ranking officials of the Army Air Forces have declared that today's bombardier graduates have received the most complete schooling ever given bombardiers, and, officials said, "they are so fully trained that they are prepared not only to drop bombs where they will do the enemy the most harm, but to plan and supervise an entire bombing mission, from the loading of bombs to the carrying out of evasive action."

Hundreds of hours of practice bombing over prairie targets built to simulate actual enemy objectives have given these newly graduated Axis blasters bullseye skill in hitting the target. In classrooms and on an infinite variety of "synthetic" training devices, they have developed vital auxiliary skills in bomb-sight maintenance, meteorology, camouflage and camouflage detection, pilotage and dead reckoning navigation, target identification and aircraft and naval vessel recognition.

Announcement was made this week at the Galveston, Texas, Army Air Field of the promotion from Private, First Class to Corporal of Orville L. Kurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville T. Kurtz, of Arlington Heights.

Corporal Kurtz entered the Army in November, 1942, and received his basic training at Sheppard Field, Texas. He was later assigned to his present position with a Fighter Bomber Squadron, where he is now serving as an Armorer.

Before entering the service, Corporal Kurtz was employed by The National Tea Co. of Arlington Heights.

Pfc. Harold A. Schwantz has arrived back in camp after a ten day furlough to visit the home folks in Arlington Heights. He writes that he never knew that Texas and Arlington were so far apart. It took him 41 hours to make the north bound trip—too many boys were given furloughs for the holidays, thinks Harold. It was his first furlough since entering the army six months ago.

A short note from Texas comes this week from Harry Kincaid of Palatine.

"I know Palatine people realize the importance of doing their utmost in the forthcoming bond drive. I'll be waiting to hear about how well they do."

His address is Capt. H. A. Kincaid, 0-221132, Ellington field, Texas.

Official announcement of the appointment of Raoul Peeters of Arlington Heights to Corpus Christi was made this week. Raoul is training to be a naval pilot, and just recently completed his training at Hutchinson, Kansas.

Michigan

Changing his address is Art Nagatz of Palatine. He was formerly stationed at Camp Mt. Vernon, Ill. His new address is Cpl. Arthur J. Nagatz, Co C 739th MP Bn, Fort Brady, Michigan.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary:

Not only Davy and Louis, but all of us enjoyed your "Bedtime Story" . . . the boys took it very seriously and asked many questions concerning cows . . . Louis wants to know if Clementine would like to borrow his little green umbrella to carry in her tail like the tiger did with Little Black Sambo's? . . . Davy couldn't understand how Clementine disobeyed her mother, if Daisy June went with her I explained that Clementine was very much like himself when he begs and begs me for more candy, and I finally let him have some against my better judgment . . . then he is sick and we're both punished . . . Just as Daisy June and Clementine were punished by getting lost and so, being frightened and lonely . . . Estelle and Davy and I chuckled to ourselves at the excitement and turmoil we could picture you all must have been in . . .

Yesterday Charlotte was two years old so we gave her her first Pink Party . . . such excitement around here! . . . Davy was home from school with a cold so I had the three of them lined up in chairs around the counter in the kitchen while I concocted Pink ice cream and a cake with Pink frosting . . . at three o'clock, when they all sat up from their naps, I dressed Charlotte in her very best Pink lawn dress, pink socks and a pink hair bow . . . I had washed her hair in the morning, so that when I brushed it, it fell about her shoulders like a soft, golden cloud and she was so excited that her cheeks were flushed to the pink of her dress . . . it was really quite touching to watch and hear her brothers admiring her . . . Louis put his fingers in her hair and said, "It's so soft, Mommy, I can hardly feel it!" . . . Dave came home at this moment, so Davy took her by the hand and led her down the stairs to him . . . I heard him say, "Look at our Princess, Daddy, isn't she pretty?" . . . Dave said when they were all dressed for the party, he would take their pictures . . . I wanted Davy and Louis to wear their new Coast Guard uniforms that Santa Claus brought them but Davy said, "No, Eleanor, I want to dress FORM-AL for Charlie. I want to wear by new Eton suit." . . . so I dressed him and Louis in their Eton suits . . . even though no one but ourselves was to be at this momentous party! . . . after all, what is laundering and ironing a couple of shirts to a mother whose sons wish to honor their only sister?

The party consisted of having our regular dinner, but served on the best white doilies and with pink paper napkins and pink paper mugs for our milk . . . then the pink ice cream was served along with the pink cake bearing its two tiny pink candles in their rosebud holders . . . Charles blew out her candles on her fourth blow . . . (Louis kept count) . . . and cut the first piece with Estelle's help . . . the party ended with a roar of laughter at my expense, caused by a remark of Davy's . . . you know he has heard mother and Dave ribbing me about my terrible spelling . . . can you remember how young you were when you first heard Estelle say to me, "I declare, Eleanor, you can't seem to spell the simplest word correctly. I don't know how they pass you along in school." . . . well, when I brought in the cake, there were many ohs and ahs and Davy said, "You may not be able to spell Mommy, but you sure can bake a cake!" . . . ah me! . . .

Thank you so much for Charlie's birthday card . . . as usual I thought it was the prettiest and sweetest one that she received . . . I had difficulty getting it out of her hands to display on the mantle because of those fascinating real ribbons that flowed from the little girl's hat . . . I ordered her another little Colonel book as her present from Dave and me but it didn't arrive yesterday . . . the one you ordered was delayed, too, so I'll let you know when we receive them . . .

Speaking of Pink Parties and hats reminds me to tell you that last Sunday Dave and I stepped out to a cocktail party . . . our old friends, Madeline and Bud gave it at their home . . . I wore my new hat, gloves and bag that Dave gave me for Christmas and felt like Judy O'Brady impersonating the Colonel's lady . . . this hat, old Bean, is a creation of PINK feathers! . . . there is a tiny plate covered with flat feathers out of the middle of which springs a branch of long cock feathers that curls down around my cheek into my neck . . . somewhere they managed to sew a little black velvet bow that holds on the swathings of black net veil! . . . Dave went with me to pick it out and I shall never take him hat shopping again because it really cost too much for "the likes of us" . . . but you know how these things come about . . . a buxom blond came forward to show us hats and when Dave said, "I want my wife to have a Christmas hat that isn't black. Have you one that can make her any more beautiful than she is?" the buxom blond beamed and produced this hat, put it on my head and refused to take it off! . . . Dave pretended to swoon at the effect and that was enough for the buxom blond . . . she refused to discuss prices with me when my husband wouldn't WANT me in any other hat . . . when I started to protest, she said, "Feathers are so expensive this year, but so chic." so expensive, my eye! . . . if I wear it out to see you, I know one of your white hens will be bound to recognize the tail feathers of her late husband even though they've been tinted pink! . . . in fact your entire brood of chickens will probably burst into loud cacklings at the sight of me . . . (nevertheless I do enjoy wearing it) . . . Please let me know in your next letter if there's anything definite about Bob yet . . . I wonder all the time where he'll be sent . . . I shall want to see him before he goes even if I have to come out there with J. D. strapped on my back like a papoose . . . is Jack well now and gaining weight again? . . . does George like his school and his school mates? . . . (Davy has a special little group of friends who call themselves THE GANG . . . they all go to his school but live near us . . . I guess they got well acquainted on their long walks home . . . they are E. J. and Barbara Zender and David and Denise Fortman . . . my nose is already out of joint about THE GANG because Davy would rather be with them than go any place with me . . . EVYEN to Cooley's Cupboard! . . . remind me sometime to tell you about the amazing and amusing goings on of this "gang" . . . is Edward still your elfin baby or is he, too, a big boy now? . . . my love to them all.

As always,
Eleanor.

Seal Cracks on Porch

Small cracks in the cement floors of porches often afford entry for ants which can be very annoying, especially in and adjacent to kitchens. In many cases, a thorough painting will seal the cracks sufficiently to keep out the ants. Larger cracks should first be filled with a crack filler or calking compound before the floor is repainted.

Hawaii

Richard Schoepke of Arlington Heights writes from Hawaii.

"I'm trying for my second class rate and will take the exam January 22. I hope I make it. Duty here is ok. We've been pretty busy the past three weeks, but it is now letting up somewhat. I'm on the night check at present, some nights working from 5 to 5. All a guy does in the daytime is sleep and eat.

"It's been raining here for some time, but now the sun has come out. I have a locker full of dirty clothes and I must wash them (damn it). Had everything for Christmas dinner a guy could ask for. More later."

His address is Richard Schoepke, AMM 3/C, CASU 31, c/o PPO, San Francisco, California.

It's Corporal William Hugo now, of Wheeling, according to his last letter telling of the two stripes. Bill has been in the service for two years, and has been in Hawaii with the exception of the first thirteen weeks of basic training at Fort Barkeley, Texas. He is in the army medical department.

Kentucky

Pvt. Robert Tegtmeier of Palatine writes that he is spending a lot of time on the rifle range these days. The weather has been a combination of rain, snow, sleet and sunshine, and in spite of it all he still likes it. He also adds that he would try his best to answer any letters that might come his way.

His address is Pvt. Robert Tegtmeier 36773818, C 3 ARFC, Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

Missouri

Pvt. Walter Hartley of Wheeling, called his home from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., on Sunday afternoon. It was a special thrill for little three year old Sandra to hear daddy's voice and tell him she was fine. Pvt. Hartley is training in the engineers corps.

Bermuda

Yeoman Jack Scanlon of Wheeling, has been stationed at Bermuda again recently. He writes that he is well and counting the days until his next furlough which is due in June.

Fort Sheridan

Louis Schmeersneider of East Maine has been inducted into the army and is now stationed at Ft. Sheridan.

With Uncle Sam

Oklahoma

Eager and ready to try his wings, Lyman E. Olsen, new fledgling flyer from Bloomingdale today became combat pilot of the Army Air Forces in the first graduating exercises of the New Year at 11 Advanced Pilot Schools of the Army Air Forces Training Command.

Member of the largest group of fighting flyers yet to be graduated at one time by schools in Texas and Oklahoma, Lyman went into active assignment even as the schools began work on a new and even larger class scheduled to graduate early next month.

Lyman graduated from Frederick field, Oklahoma.

From Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, comes word from Don Thompson of Palatine.

"I want to express my sincere thanks to the Legion and Auxiliary for sending me the Palatine Enterprise. It means an awful lot to get the hometown paper and to be able to keep up with the activities at home. I have read all the letters that have been sent by the other boys and I guess I feel the same way, so I'll just say 'Thanks a lot.'"

His address is Pvt. Don Thompson 36765319, Co. C. 282nd Inf., APO 411, Camp Gruber, Okla.

Corp. Bill Schellin of East Maine is home on two weeks furlough from Alabama, where he is in the signal corps.

Italy

Writing from Italy is Raymond Roper of Palatine.

"Just a few lines to let you know that I left Sicily and am now in Italy. From what I have seen so far, I think that I'll like it pretty well.

"The people here are just as poor as they were in Sicily. They are always asking for something to eat. They come and eat all of the food we throw in the trash can, no matter how dirty it is.

"Most of the kids don't have any shoes on. They rap their feet with rags to keep them warm. I wish some of the people back home could see how these people live and they wouldn't kick so much when they couldn't get something.

"I hope this is the last New Year's eve I have to spend over here. We've got a lot of work to do and are doing it night and day. It'll be great when this is over and we can all come home. There are several Palatine boys here with me."

His address is Pvt. Raymond Roper, 36317561, APO 782 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Writing from Italy this week is Al Duenn of Arlington Heights.

"I'm writing this with a borrowed pen, as I lost mine five months ago. Those things are plenty scarce out here. I'll be glad when I can go some place where I can buy anything I want. Only place like that is home.

"Sure would like to see that new theater of ours. Sometimes I lay around trying to picture what the town looks like. I got everything down pretty pat. I suppose things have changed since I left.

"Is my room still empty? Keep it empty because that is one thing I want the same when I come back. I also want breaded pork chops. Recently lost 15 pounds in the hospital (yellow jaundice) and hope to gain it back shortly.

"They sure have some wonderful doctors out here. Also, the nurses are swell. It seemed funny to have a girl talking English to you. They even made my bed."

His address is Pfc. Albert E. Duenn, 36003397 APO 3, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Writing from Italy this week is Wilbert Busse of Mt. Prospect.

"This being my third Christmas away from home, and my second on foreign soil, the recent Mt. Prospect Lions gift seemed extra welcome this year. It makes me feel good to know the folks at home are thinking of you."

His address is 1st Lt. W. W. Busse, APO 464 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Call out the reserves—

One thing we've done to maintain good telephone service—all up and down our territory—and still meet war needs is to bring back from storage many of the old-style upright telephones. They are just as reliable, just as serviceable as the newer hand sets.

Our whole program has been one of redesign and research and reuse, to save war-vital materials. This work began before Pearl Harbor and has been stepped up progressively ever since. We've saved many thousands of pounds of copper and other materials. We've been able to salvage vast amounts of critical metals and still keep telephone service at a high standard.

And we intend to stay on top of that job, doing our best to give everyone all the service there is. . . . Fast service! Efficient service! Service with a smile!

Douglas Hiring is INCREASING!BIG ARMY ORDER
FINDS DOUGLAS
UNDERMANNED

The Douglas Aircraft company in Park Ridge yesterday announced a new army air force order for four-engine Skyraider transport planes, bringing its backlog to nearly 300 million dollars.

John D. Weaver, plant manager, said the new contract almost equals the original order for C-54s, which was so large the parent company in Santa Monica, Cal., was forced to build the enormous Park Ridge plant to meet it. New production facilities will not be needed, Weaver said, but the new contract will intensify the company's pressing need for more employees, and will extend its operations for a long period.

Largest Land Based Transport.
The C-54 is the largest land based transport in mass production. It is used for hauling supplies in trans-oceanic service, for evacuation of wounded soldiers from front line areas, and as a passenger transport.

Weaver said the Park Ridge plant is attempting to hire between 500 and 650 new employees each week, but has not been able to satisfy its manpower wants. More employees are needed for the first shift, from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., and for the second shift, from 4:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. The company trains employees unskilled at aircraft work in schools in Chicago and at the factory.

Reprinted from Chicago Tribune, Dec. 7, 1943

Because of additional contracts for our gigantic C-54 SKYMASTERS, we are still hiring experienced and inexperienced men and women.

Douglas Aircraft workers enjoy the following advantages:

1. A brand new plant with new tools, new equipment throughout.
2. Excellent food (cafeteria and canteens) at popular prices.
3. A vacation-pay plan that really means something.
4. Money-saving group life, health and hospitalization insurance.
5. Ideal recreational facilities, including organized clubs, dances, parties, sports, outside entertainment, etc.
6. "Share the Ride" plan for your convenience.

This being your war, too, you'll want to know all about how we train you to become a skilled aircraft worker, pay you while you learn, promote you to better paying jobs.

For your convenience, Douglas has established several hiring offices and the Douglas Man at any one of the following addresses will be glad to answer any questions you may have. See him today—it will be to your advantage. Don't put it off—"Come work with us."
